

Way forward for cooperation on circular economy in fashion

On 7 June 2021 (12:00-15:00 CEST / UTC+2), the Italian G20 Presidency and the EU are organising an online workshop on Circular Fashion to inform discussions in the G20. The workshop will explore how circular business models can help the fashion sector improve economic, environmental and social performance. Industry experts and policy makers from across the world will discuss which principles support successful circular economy business models and which policy initiatives could foster circularity. Case studies and presentations will illustrate circularity in fashion as well as circular economy business models in fashion.

The workshop will explore the G20's role in promoting the circular economy in the fashion sector.

The draft agenda is available here.

Participation to the workshop is open. To register your interest, please click on this link. Further details for participation will then follow.

EU Best Practices

